04.03.2005Warranty for RADOX Solar Cable

Dear Sir or Madam,

HUBER+SUHNER RADOX[®] solar cables are covered by manufacturer's warranty for a period of 15 years from the date of delivery.

We can confidently provide this warranty having deployed our solar cables in the widely differing climatic conditions in Switzerland for a number of decades.

Assuming that they are correctly installed in accordance with national standards and properly used, HUBER+SUHNER RADOX[®] solar cables are capable, in a typical central European climate, of transmitting power (within the tolerances set down in DIN IEC 61215 Point 6.a) in a stable manner throughout the whole warranty period.

Under the operating conditions for which the cable has been designed, the average service life is considerably longer.

Should a problem arise while the product is under warranty, HUBER+SUHNER AG will decide either to repair the product or to replace it free of charge with an identical or equivalent product. No warranty claims will be accepted if the product malfunction is the result of inappropriate or incorrect maintenance or handling, acts of God, the influence of other system components or interventions by third parties.

Yours faithfullyThomas Grimberg
